Platform for the AV industry

S14 Solutions Day is a unique platform for AV systems integration and specialist retailers. There are two major AV distribution companies located at Siemensstrasse 14 (S14) in Uhingen near Stuttgart. COMM-TEC and VIVATEQ organize this event together with reputable manufacturers and partner companies.

Target group

CEO, owners, sales people, project engineers and technicians of systems integrators, resellers and consultants.

Trade Meeting

Away from the bustle of the big fairs, you can cultivate your network, meet industry colleagues and representatives of major manufacturers to exchange and mingle in a relaxed atmosphere.

Symposium

Workshops and lectures about current topics communicate specialised knowledge and present new technologies and trends. The topics were selected with regard to current requirements and the challanges faced by professional in our field.

The speakers

Guest speakers from well-known manufacturers and system integrators as well as our own product specialists deal with current topics regarding integration and installation of audio, video and control technology.

Get-together party on the night before

We want to invite you on September 30, from 6 p.m. to get together and interchange ideas.

Exhibition and general programme

Discover products and system solutions live in the COMM-TEC / VIVATEQ in-house exhibition. In addition, partner companies present their products and systems live.

All about us

Six good reasons ...

... why COMM-TEC is the right partner for you

A clear distribution concept

COMM-TEC adheres strictly to the concept of being a true distributor, i.e. offering products, solutions, information, technical support and competent help to professional dealers and systems integrators ONLY.

Innovative technologies

COMM-TEC puts the products and technologies of tomorrow at your disposal today!

A market-oriented product range

COMM-TEC negotiates for you with the world leading manufacturers to gain access to the market's most sought-after technologies. Compatibility with the other products in our range is guaranteed from the start.

Skilled support

COMM-TEC supports you with an extensive offer of services designed with one goal in mind: to help you grow your business. Competent technical support, project planning assistance, programming help and up-to-date information.

Support for planners

COMM-TEC is in constant contact with consultants and architects to inform, advise and support them in their designs with the latest information, data, application examples and architectural specifications.

Prompt and reliable delivery and post-sales service

COMM-TEC's warehouse in the heart of Europe provides for quick availability, short lead times, reliability and quality of service.

„Think Solutions"

A Philosophy

COMM-TEC, however, has striven to create an awareness of thinking and acting in solutions and, as a result, offer systems. The spirit of „Think Solutions" is found throughout all of COMM-TEC not only as an expression of our distribution and product philosophy, but also within our teamwork environment and our dealings with customers and suppliers.
